The arrival of cold winds and snow in some areas just in time for the annual spookfest made the evening less appealing for trick-and-treaters and their parents, but the switch back to Mountain Standard Time meant that youngsters could wait for dark yet be home for a school night bedtime.

New Students' Union executives elected at F. G. Miller

By Leanne Wilson
Student Journalist

Hello from F. G. Miller High School This week, I would like to introduce F. G. Miller's Junior and Senior Students' Union Executive.

The junior high executive is as follows: President - Kirsty Lindquist; Vice-President - Danielle Schnurer; Secretary - Dayna Yaremkevich; Social Convenor - Crystal Deschamps; Sports Convenors - Travis Lindquist and Sara Goulet; Publicity - Valerie Friesen and Ashley Hebblethwaite.

The senior high students' union includes: President - Carlen Mutch; Vice President - Joanne deMoissac; Treasurer - Tanya Pankiw; Activity

Coordinators - Terina Nixon and Peter Danyluk; Sports Convenor - Ben Peterson; Publicity - Tammy Bober and Julie Young; Pop Machine - Courtney Maksymec; and Secretary - Michelle Leckie.

Besides organizing programs and special events for the school, the Student's Union is an excellent place to learn many skills that will be valuable for the rest of our lives. Thank you to all the Crusaders for their time and effort in providing leadership for F. G. Miller.

This volleyball season has definitely been successful for F. G. Miller's teams. On Saturday, October 23, the junior high volleyball teams journeyed to Mallaig's tournament. F. G. Miller Crusaders had a great day on the courts, with both the girls and boys teams capturing second place in the A Finals. Congratulations and best of luck in future games!

Well, that's all from the halls of F. G. Miller for this week.

At last! Our Channel 5 is back on the air!

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

Can you believe it? Our community channel - Channel 5 - is back on the air! So when you "surf" your Regional Cable TV channels, stop for a moment and learn about what is happening in Elk Point. If your club or community organization has any happening that needs to be put on Channel 5, just call the FCSS office at 724-3800 and Faye will be glad to put it on the air for you.

We really are excited to have Channel 5 back on the air! There was a long absence for various reasons, like old equipment being replaced and then a "user friendly" program was installed with new equipment. But it had a "glitch." Then the cable people found a "more user friendly" program. Then another "glitch." It needed some more "newer equipment." — which was found. So, after all this time, everything is running very well! Yea, I want to say it again: "We are very excited to have our community channel — Channel 5 — back on the air!!!"

To have an operating community channel in Elk Point is great! Community information getting out to everyone is like keeping the whole community informed.

To be informed reminds me of some thoughts under "consider this." Did you know that Leon Uris, author of the bestseller Exodus, failed high school English tree times?

In 1962, four nervous young musicians played their first record audition for the executives of the Decca Recording Company. The executives were not impressed. While turning down this British rock group called the Beatles, one executive said, "We don't like their sound. Groups of guitars are on the way out."

When Thomas Edison

invented the light bulb, he tried over 2000 experiments before he got it to work. A young reporter asked him how it felt to fail so many times. He said, "I never failed once. I invented the light bulb. It just happened to be a 2000-step process."

When Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1876, it did not ring off the hook with calls from potential backers. After making a demonstration call, President Rutherford Hayes said, "That's an amazing invention, but who would ever want to use one of them?" Of note; this summer on the Community Choir tour of the Maritimes, we had an opportunity to tour and sing in the museum located on Cape Breton Island. Alexander Graham Bell is Canadian!

In summary, we can be informed by reading this paper, watching the community channel - Channel 5, or we can be informed by talking on the telephone. Either way, it is exciting to be informed!

Operation Christmas Child: that's Nov. 14

Last week's story regarding Operation Christmas Child, which sends boxes of toys, school supplies, personal care items and other gifts to needy youngsters in other lands, contained an error regarding the deadline for returning filled boxes to the Elk Point Baptist Church. The correct deadline is NOVEMBER 14, not October 14 as stated.

This means you still have twelve more days to get your box filled and delivered. Call Margaret Modin at 724-3605 for more information or to obtain a box.

Proclamation

Family Violence Prevention Month

WHEREAS there are many people in Alberta who have lived or are living in abusive family environments, and

WHEREAS the cycle of violence may be carried on from generation to generation, and

WHEREAS individuals and communities have the power to break this cycle of violence,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Mayor Ed Buck, do hereby proclaim the month of November, 1999 to be

Family Violence Prevention Month

in Elk Point. I call upon citizens to recognize family violence for the serious social and criminal problem that it is. I call upon you to make a difference by taking the time to get involved. And I call upon you to encourage all Albertans to help make our province violence free in 1999 and beyond.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have here unto set my hand this 11th day of October, 1999.

On the secret to happiness

By Manon Joice
Review Contributor

Through conversations with many and again recently, there comes the notion of forgiveness. Forgiveness to me is the great secret to happiness. The question, however, remains - what is true forgiveness and how does one forgive truly.

For myself, true forgiveness occurs when one is no longer burdened by the actions of another. We have all been wronged by another and there is no action that one person can commit that another can't forgive. One important key is to remember the sense of justice we, as persons, feel must be done. It is this need that limits us. We want redemption, and compensation from the other, but this rarely occurs, at least directly, to those who have been harmed. Expect nothing and you won't be disappointed, forgive them anyway. It is their weakness and not yours. Remember always: this world may not be fair, but a greater spirit is. And you should look very closely, you will recognize that justice takes many forms.

It is said one loves to the extent one forgives. This is very true. One cannot expect to be in the right if they continue to hold resentment toward another and it is that resentment, the burden one bears when they do not forgive. There will come a point, however, when you truly forgive another person, when the sadness you feel is for them and not yourself, and that is forgiveness.

Fidler descendants visit Bolsover House

By Peggy Fidler Zaraska
Review Contributor

Bolsover House was a Hudson Bay trading post located southwest of Meadow Lake, Saskatchewan. Peter Fidler, an explorer and surveyor for the Hudson Bay Company, established the post in the late 1700s. This fort accommodated the fur trade of the Hudson Bay Company. It carried the Bolsover name to perpetuate the birthplace of Peter Fidler in Bolsover, Derbyshire, England.

Some time later, around 1873, Cyprien Morin arrived in the Meadow Lake area where there were only five Indian families and his own. He settled on the land just west of the lake where the golf course is now located. Since Cyprien had previously worked for the Hudson Bay Company at Ile a la Crosse and Green Lake, he became manager of the Bolsover House Post. Here, Morin bought furs and supplied needs for the surrounding area. Some of the Morin family are married to descendants of the Peter Fidler family.

Among the Peter Fidler descendants who visited the site of Bolsover House this summer were Mary Fidler of Bolsover, Derbyshire, England and Larry Fidler, whose family is very pleased to have found the post at which their forbears were posted.

■ Autumn Reflections

The swing

By Geoff Bishop
Review Contributor

Strange how seemingly ordinary things can, when your mood is just so, evoke such strong emotions in a person, particularly in a parent. I had just this sort of experience recently. It was one of those fall days when the air is crisp but not yet cold and the sky is changing back and forth from that unique blue of fall to the slate grey of winter. The trees in the neighborhood were beginning to lose their leaves, which just a short time ago had come to life to brighten the landscape.

With the kids at school, I was working around the house in my temporary but not always welcome solitude, when my gaze wandered out the kitchen window. As I stood watching the leaves drift off the trees and float across the backyard on the breeze, I became suddenly very aware of the children's swing set.

With only the north wind available to play, I watched as the two swings swayed slowly back and forth in quiet unison. Suddenly, those two swings looked very empty and melancholy. As my mind drifted from summers past to those of the future, I wondered why it is that years pass so wonderfully slow in childhood, yet those same years seem to be so greatly accelerated for parents? Time seems especially quick when I experience one of those very special moments with my children, the kind I wish I could hold on to indefinitely yet it passes all too soon to become another cherished, slowly fading memory.

That was when my mood became as melancholy as the scene in the backyard. I wondered how many short years are left before there will be no one interested in playing on those swings, save for the wind. I thought about how I love watching my children grow while knowing in my heart that with each passing day, season and year, they are coming ever nearer to the day when, like the leaves on the trees, my wife and I will have to release them to drift off into the world to find their own destinies.

Alberta celebrates 4-H Week

By Paul Langevin, MLA
Lac La Biche - St. Paul

November 1 through 7, 1999 is National 4-H Week and Alberta's 4-H program deserves a second look. For more than 80 years, Alberta's 4-H program has worked to meet the challenges of our agriculture and food industry.

The recent national Measures of Success study looked at the impact of the 4-H program in Canada. It proved what industry leaders have known for years: 4-H gives youth the edge to compete in today's world. The study showed that 4-H alumni are better educated, more often employed and much more often employed in the agriculture and food industry. They report substantially higher incomes than the national average for Canadians and are also more involved in community organizations.

Together with their volunteer leaders, 4-Hers pursue the 4-H motto, Learn To Do By Doing, as they participate in exciting club activities and 4-H projects. Alberta's 4-H program has something for everyone, including projects in conservation, computers, livestock, veterinary science, photography, crafts, Business Cent$ - the entrepreneurial project, the new bison and exchange projects and much more. Now that's something to celebrate!

During National 4-H Week, Alberta 4-Hers will be demonstrating that 4-H CAN Make a Difference. At Farmfair

International '99, being held at Northlands Park in Edmonton, 4-H members will accept donations to the Food Bank Network Association. In return for their donations, visitors to Farmfair International will receive an Alberta Made food coupon, sample or recipe. The food donations will be distributed to food banks across Alberta.

Wherever you live, on a farm or acreage, in a town or the city, Alberta's 4-H program is full of opportunities. To join 4-H, call a representative from your local club, or 780-422-4444 or visit the 4-H web site at <http://www.agri.gov.ab.ca/4h>.

Partnerships link our local library to the world

By Karina Mitchell
Librarian

The Library is always trying to improve. Along with our partnerships, we are able to offer more to our patrons. An example of this is our Internet Workstation which is sponsored by the Alberta Public Library Electronic Network and Industry Canada. Thanks to the work done by Northern Lights Library System to apply for this project on our Library's behalf, we now have a big and beautiful computer with two years Internet connection paid for.

Now through our NLLS membership, we have access to even more libraries... over 200 libraries in Alberta. By receiving The Alberta Library Card (TAL Card for short) you can stop into libraries across our fine province, pick up a book and return it to any participating TAL library (including Elk Point Public Library). Edmonton Public Library is participating as well as the University of Alberta and the University of Calgary. Banff, Camrose, Grande Prairie and Lethbridge are just a few of the places you have access to all the resources of a library. It is truly a card you should never leave home without!

New Books at the Library...

For Adults:

Do you want a reason to wear "a grin as wide as the St. Lawrence"? Then pick up Canadian Sayings. This amusing collection of 1200

Canadian folk sayings is annotated and arranged in over 130 categories, and will guarantee you an appropriate Canadian response to any situation. By Bill Casselman.

Whether you're a meatless Monday type or a veteran vegan, let Canada's premiere vegetarian cook Nettie Cronish introduce you to the delightful tastes and textures of vegetarian meals in New Vegetarian Basics.

Roses from the Earth is the most definitive portrait we shall ever have of Anne Frank. It was written with the full cooperation of her surviving family and recreates the short life of 'Hitler's most famous victim'. By Carol Ann Lee.

Picture Books:

In Star Wars: Anakin to the Rescue, Anakin is supposed to wait for the others outside the jedi temple. But Anakin hates waiting! And when he finds a lost little boy, Anakin knows he must help him. By Cecilia Venn, illustrated by Chris Trevas.

Obituary

DILTS, Grace Elma

On October 26, 1999, Grace Elma Dilts of Heritage Lodge passed away in Elk Point at the age of 90 years.

She was predeceased by her husband Rollo in 1983 and by eight brothers and sisters. She was the daughter of Stewart and Celeste Maxwell, early pioneers in the Lindbergh district. Grace and Rollo were involved in the oil trucking business at Lloydminster and in the operation of school buses at Mannville prior to their retirement.

Memorial Service was held Monday, November 1 at 2:00 pm in the Elk Point Christian Community Church, 53 Street and Railway Avenue, Elk Point with Rev. Sam Donaldson officiating. Yewchin's Funeral Chapel, St. Paul, was in charge of cremation. Donations in memory of Grace may be made to the Elk Point Christian Community Church Building Fund or to a charity of one's choice.

Long ago, when the earth was set down and the sky was lifted up, all folktales were owned by the Sky God. Anansi does the Impossible is the story of Anansi, a little spider that is determined to buy back the stories for the people. An Ashanti tale retold by Verna Aardema.

Stretchy, floppy dough and gooey, gloppy sauce. What is Pat making? Pizza, of course! With a familiar rhythm and catchy rhymes, this is one tasty story. Pizza Pat by Rita Golden Gelman and illustrated by Will Terry. A Step Into Reading book.

Thunder impressive in first game of season

By Doug Bassett
Review Sports

There wasn't any music playing, but that didn't stop the Midget Thunder, who looked very impressive Friday night when they took to the ice in their first game of the season and gave Cold Lake a 7 to 1 thrashing. Leading the way for the Thunder, a guy who knows all about winning, the wiry chuckwagon driver from Dewberry, Kurt Bensmiller, scoring a hat trick.

The only Cold Lake goal was scored when the Thunder defence got caught up ice and the Freeze player came out of the penalty box behind the play and picked up the puck, giving goaltender Brandon Parenteau no chance on the breakaway. Brandon played exceptionally well considering he is still a Bantam aged player, and at the present time, is the Thunder's only goalie unless someone comes out of the woodwork.

Another Bantam aged player, who never looked out of place at all, Brian Poitras with a single. Rounding out the scoring, Dallas Flamond, Darcy Stafford and Jon Yake, all with singles.

A nice addition to the Thunder blue line, returning to Elk Point after a year's absence, is recently signed defenceman Kent Bjornstad, who spent last season playing AAA Bantam in Fort Saskatchewan. It's nice to see a player of his caliber, and with his experience, return after leaving our system. Kent, with two assists in the game, is smart with the puck, knows when to jump into the play, and is a superb skater who can get back into his own end in time to break up the play. Welcome home, Kent!

As for all the players who left this year, some of you by choice, others by necessity, here's some advice: remember this, the grass may not always be greener on the other side, and the door is always open, so don't be too proud to return home!

Maybe it was the testosterone kicking in, but you gotta know in Midget hockey, any time one team takes too great of a lead, especially in the third, you're going to have a wreck. Friday night was no exception. In the third period the sticks came up and the gloves came off, each team losing a number of players, two Thunder players suspended for the next game.

On Halloween Sunday the Thunder travelled to Vegreville to battle the team that won the Tier 1 league last year, losing this one 6 to 4. After two periods the game was tied at 3 apiece, but the Thunder ran short of gas in the third. Still, it was a good effort against a team that will most likely be one of the top teams in Tier 1 again this season. Another player who returned to play, after missing last season, Dustin Yarmekovich scoring in this one.

Bantam Colts

The Bantam Colts, who are based out of Dewberry but are affiliated with our Thunder Midget team, played their season opener on Friday night, winning 5 to 2 over the Tier 1 team from Vermilion. Elk Point player Shaun Slywka scoring the first goal in this contest, two by another Elk Point guy, Kevin Moneta, and Dustin Molineux with two.

On Sunday the Colts traveled to Lac La Biche, playing another Tier 1 team, coming home with a 4-all tie. Singles by Brandon Elliott, Shane Cusack, Dustin Molineux and Cody Burns.

Peewee Avalanche

Dave Cousins and the Peewee Avalanche were up for the test, and walked all over the Tier 2 team from Bonnyville on Saturday afternoon, 16 to 0. They were led by the set up man, team captain

Jason Kalynchuk, scoring two goals and five assists, setting up Jesse Kozicky for four goals and David Ramful for a single. The Kid line is made up of three first year Peewee players, Lee Letestu who scored a single, along with hat tricks by Zack MacKinnon and Jordan Cousins. Another first year guy, Corry Bezpalko, scored a single. Between the pipes, in his first game as a tender, Kelly Calliou kicked out some big saves.

Although the season is just getting started, this young team shows big potential, some excellent skaters with great wheels, some solid hard hitters, eight veterans returning who have already seen the provincial finals, going to Fairview last year, including big veteran goaltender Kurt Kozicky, and nine first year guys, none of whom looked intimidated by body contact. It seems to me like they were ready to take the big step into the real game of hockey. Peewees, rock 'em, sock 'em!
